

For Immediate Release: May 21, 2012

Contacts:

- Jamie Xiong-Vang, Central California Legal Services, Inc., 559-570-1238; jxiong@centralcallegal.org
- Jed Cridland-Hughes, The Fresno County Public Law Library, 559-237-2227; lawlibrary@co.fresno.ca.us

A Free Legal Conservatorship Clinic Launches in Fresno

CCLS and the Fresno County Public Law Library Team Up to Provide Free Legal Services in Central Valley

(Fresno, CA, May 21, 2012)— The Conservatorship Clinic devoted to prepare participants with the Conservatorship process will hold its first monthly clinic at 2115 Kern Street, Suite 1, in downtown Fresno on May 24. The clinic will begin promptly at 8:30am. People in need of assistance may come to the office during those hours.

Founded by Central California Legal Services (CCLS) and The Fresno County Public Law, the clinic will provide information about the legal requirements and procedures to obtain a conservatorship, provide free legal advice to clients from a pro bono attorney, and present information by a licensed professional fiduciary.

The Clinic will help people interested in obtaining a legal conservatorship for low-income seniors who cannot care for himself or herself.

About Central California Legal Services, Inc. (CCLS)

Celebrating 45 years of service to the community, Central California Legal Services, Inc. has provided free civil legal assistance to low income families in Fresno, Kings, Mariposa, Merced, Tulare, and Tuolumne counties. CCLS's mission is to advance justice and empower people. With offices in Fresno, Visalia, and Merced, CCLS assists low-income clients on a wide variety of legal issues and provides services which range from advice-only to full representation in civil matters.

About the Fresno County Public Law Library

It is the mission of the Fresno County Public Law Library to support access to justice and enhance the practice of law in Fresno County. The library's collection contains resources covering state and federal case law, statutes and other legal materials on topics including landlord and tenant issues, family law, small claims, filing a lawsuit, probate, foreclosure and workers' comp. Reference librarians are on staff to assist the public and attorneys with their research needs.